If she really doesn't think she can withstand trial, would she entertain cooperating against Richard and Carolyn Lisa to the extent the government is interested?

I had virtually the same conversation with her this morning.

I told her not to rush through the document. And get it to us when she was done.

We didn't cover racial bias but covered her depression over this whole situation but the fact that we believed in her was important to her and was giving her strength.

I told her we would set up a meeting for next week because I was still getting over my cold and didn't want to give it to her with her compromised immune system.

She was happy to do that.

She is clearly disturbed by the Richard thing profoundly.

I spoke with Michelle today

She is in better spirits after being particularly depressed and not feeling well the last two weeks
She feels that the fact that she has been charged but not Richard ; plus the receiver's treatment of her; generally the prosecution's treatment of her; all points to (perhaps unconscious) racial bias, which contributed to her feelings of depression
But she is reactivated after speaking with her mom on Friday; grateful for her team and working on questions for Richard
